

This picture shows a new roundabout on a controversial housing development in Bishops Cleeve.

Note how they've constructed a chicane just before the roundabout, thereby forcing traffic onto the right hand side of the road to meet oncoming traffic from the roundabout.

This is made worse by the hedge and tree which obscures traffic entering the roundabout from the right hand road which, fortunately, isn't in operation yet

